The concept alpha and omega refers to the beginning and end of something. It may also be used to refer the core idea or elements of something. Once we understand our world as a reflection of the delicate metaphysical balance between Truth's incessant Will to be made manifest and the errant choices of human will.

Today's work culture often requires people to be independent thinkers responsible for making good decisions based on limited information. This kind of work may require training if the employee does not have these skills. Determine what resources are available for training. What are the mission and goals of the organization in regards to employee development?

Life is a journey, enjoy the trip. Aim for the sky, but move slowly, enjoying every step along the way. It is all those little steps that make the journey complete. The journey is a reward. Stay patient and trust your journey. Life is about the journey, not about the destination. In the end, we only regret the chances we didn't take.

A successful training needs analysis will identify those who need training and what kind of training is needed. It is counter-productive to offer training to individuals who do not need it or to offer the wrong kind of training.

A Training Needs Analysis helps to put the training resources to good use. Training and development helps companies gain and retain top talent, increase job satisfaction and morale, improve productivity and earn more profit. Additionally, businesses that have actively interested and dedicated employees see 41 percent lower absenteeism rates, and 17 percent higher productivity.

Life is a journey. When we stop, things don't go right. Sometimes the longest journey we make is the sixteen inches from our heads to our hearts. Life is an opportunity, seize the day, live each day to the fullest. Life is not a project, but a journey to be enjoyed
